

Look! Adam,

Look and see how your children are desperately trying to save their god, Mammon, the God of Commerce. They are frantically doing all in their power to try to prolong their own few earthly days by enslaving countless future generations thereby causing their children to pass through the fire. Adam, how foolish are your children! They refuse to accept My Wisdom and cling to their own foolishness. I sent them every "natural" calamity to demand their attention yet they refuse to listen. I sent them many messengers to inform them, yet they refuse to reason and they reject them. Tell me, was I foolish to destroy your children at the time of Noah's flood? They were doing exactly the same in the days of Noah as they continue to do today. I have sent a flood of Covid-19 into the world. And unless your children repent, they will perish in their erring. There is no other option. I will be compelled to purge the world of the shedding of innocent blood and begin anew. Adam, talk to your children. And if they refuse to listen to you, at least their blood is not on your head. But if you refuse to talk to them on My behalf, then all of their blood is on your head.
