

O God, from the very beginning, You instituted a family wherein You intended me to be the firstborn. By not remaining under Your authority, I was unfaithful to You. By declaring my independence, You cut me off from the Living Tree. I died. And since my death, I needed to learn the most important and difficult lesson. But after a very long time, by observing Your relationship with my children and hearing all that You told them through Your selected representatives, I did learn. And it was by this that I was able to choose to repent and return to You, o God, my Father. It was not by killing one of my children and using him as a sacrifice that brought me back to You, Father.

You gave my children an opportunity to learn and reverse what I did by setting apart one of my sons to replace me. But, instead of learning from him, my children rejected and killed this special child, the one whom You appointed as my replacement as head of Your family on earth. Because of this, Your vision of the Heavenly Family remains unfulfilled on earth. You never instructed my children to kill anyone as a sacrifice to "cover up sin". You instructed them by saying "every man dies for his own sin and every man lives by his own righteousness". You said this through Moses and repeated this through Ezekiel, two of Your chosen representatives to my children. How long must my children suffer in hell, o God, my Father?

*Your Son,
Adam*
